Substantive Editing (in addition to "Light Editing"; or "Heavy Editing"):

Suggesting rewrites, reordering content, doing research for photos or Websites, and/or adding a glossary. It may also include checking the validity and labeling of charts, tables, and photos; checking on answers for questions; ensuring companion or ancillary books are referenced correctly. This "Heavy Editing" will also include editing for ESL (American English as a Second Language) authors, or those who need special accommodations (e.g., nearly blind authors may use software to translate their speech into writing). If a specific author needs “editing down” (to cut words to fit a tight space, say in a text box), that would also fall into “Heavy Editing.”

Appendix B:

Payment Plan Terms:

- A. Holy Fire Publishing offers payments plans for all publishing packages as follows:
 - $500 non refundable down payment, then the advertised monthly price over 6 months.
- B. Additional Services Purchased at Time of Publishing Package

Any additional services not included as part of the selected publishing package and purchased at the same time will be collectively added to the customer’s monthly payment as set forth in Section A above.

1. Commencement of Services Purchased Via Payment Plan

- A. Publishing Package Services upon the initial down payment by Customer, Holy Fire Publishing will commence the services set forth in the Publishing Agreement for the specific publishing package. However the book will not be made available for distribution until final payment is received. Customer shall be invoiced on the first of the month, but no sooner than thirty (30) days following down payment. For example, if Customer places down payment on May 5, he/she will be invoiced on July 1. For first and all subsequent invoices, payment shall be due by the fifteenth of the month in which invoice is generated. If Customer fails to make payment by invoice due date, the publishing process and all related services will be halted and Customer's account will be suspended until payment is made. Such interruption of the publishing process shall reset all time frames for services that are ongoing at the time of nonpayment. Once Customer's account is current, work can resume, however services that were in process will have their deadlines reset. Customer acknowledges that account suspension may result in unforeseen delays to the publishing process and timeline depending on length of suspension. If Customer fails to make payment and account suspension occurs, Customer shall be subject to a $25 account reinstatement fee. Customer shall be required to pay the $25 account reinstatement fee in addition to any overdue invoices in order to resume the publishing process. Further, the publishing process shall not restart until all outstanding monthly payments have been made. For example, if Customer has missed two monthly payments, both will need to be paid in order for Customer's account to be current. Customer acknowledges that he/she will not be entitled to a refund of any kind so long as Holy Fire Publishing is willing to provide the publishing and related services.

B. Additional Services Paid as Part of Payment Plan

Any additional service must be paid in full prior to the commencement of that particular service. Using the example from Section 1(B) above, if eBook formatting was ready to be commenced, but Customer still owed $349 toward that service, that $349 would need to be paid in full prior to commencement of the service regardless of number of months remaining on the payment plan.
